

Q. What is the one issue that you would most like to hear the candidates for president discuss?

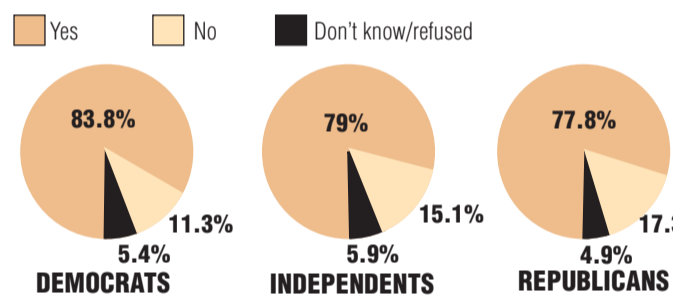

Q. U.S. Sen. John McCain recently has voiced support for several of President Bush's policies regarding Iraq. Do you think this has helped his bid for the presidency, hurt his bid for the presidency or had no effect on his bid for the presidency?

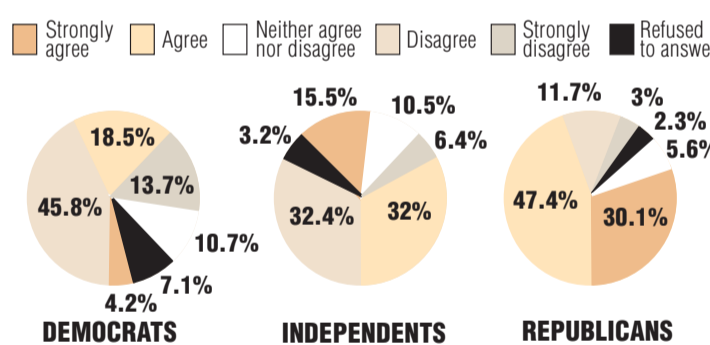

Q. Regardless of what you think about any of the current presidential candidates, do you think the country will be ready for a female president in the next 12 years?

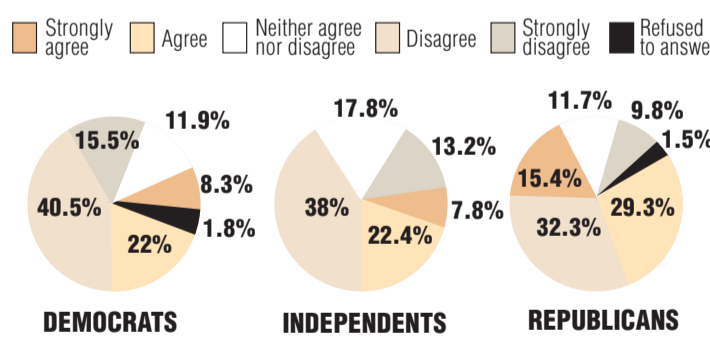

Q. Regardless of what you think about any of the current presidential candidates, do you think the country will be ready for an African-American president in the next 12 years?

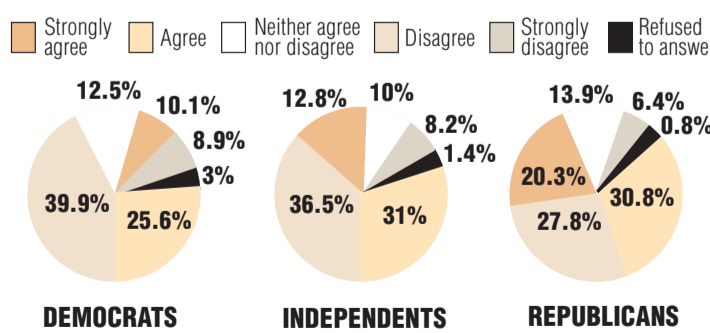

Q. Regardless of how you personally feel about her, Hillary Clinton may be too controversial of a figure to be elected president.

Q. Finding out that a candidate has had multiple divorces would make me less likely to support that candidate.

Q. I would have trouble voting for a candidate whose views on abortion were different from mine.

Q. I think that the actor and former U.S. senator from Tennessee, Fred Thompson, should officially enter the presidential race.
